

GENERAL INFORMATIONS

TARGET

The CME Course is addressed to all Health Care Professionals for improving the knowledge about the issues of Cancer Survivorship.

The American and Italian Chairmen and Speakers of this Study Day will present data and reports from the studies done in this field, particularly in the USA since the seventies, about Medical and Psychosocial Concerns and QoL, offering to the attendees a deeper understanding and appreciation for these aspects of Cancer Survivorship. Both the presentations and the discussions conducted by the Chairmen and Discussants will offer new perspectives and describe emerging approaches to meet Cancer Survivors needs and help them manage cancer related sequelae.

CME CREDITS

The accreditation of the Study Day event by the Italian Ministry of Health, in compliance with the national CME regulations, is still pending. Credits will be assigned to the attendees to all sessions who did complete both the entrance and exit CME tests. The attendance will be verified by signature both at the start and the end of the sessions.

FEE/REGISTRATION

The participation at the CME event is free, while the registration is obliged. The attendees maximum number is of 90. Once the maximum number of participants has been reached, registration will be closed and the organizing secretariat will promptly contact those participants exceeding. Participation will be free for students of the Degree and Specialization Courses of Disciplines related to the Study Day's topics, and to the Patients and registered members of Voluntary Organizations in Oncology.

POSTER SESSION

A Poster Session (size 70 x 100 cm) about the issues of the Study Day will be held in the Congress lounge for the duration of the event. A Scientific Commission will judge the posters, and an official award will be assigned to the worthiest poster based upon originality, research accuracy and innovation.

Posters will be exposed by 9.00 a.m. on September 30th and they will stay through the meeting in the conference hall. Poster's abstracts (English language, max 2500 fonts, included spaces, max 4 references) will have to submit within September 20th, only by email to the following addresses: criticare@oncologico.bari.it; ecm@oncologico.bari.it

Both the registration of the first author and his presence are compulsory, otherwise no prize might be awarded. Foreign authors' posters will be well accepted, even if the missed presence might exclude the possibility of being awarded.

SERVICES FOR PARTICIPANTS

The Study Day will take place at the Meeting Hall of the NCI "Giovanni Paolo II" of Bari. During the Meeting, translation will be provided from English to Italian and vice versa for the scientific sessions indicated in the program.
