

European School of Oncology

Learning to care

Umberto Veronesi, Founder and Chairman of the Scientific Committee

In 1982 he conceived the idea to unite clinical, cultural and scientific tradition of European oncology under the roof of a unique school

Alberto Costa
is the Scientific Director of the European School of Oncology since its inception in 1982

ESO TODAY

- 25 years of professional cancer education
- 50 people at work around the world
- > 1,000 original events
- > 50,000 participants, experts, lecturers, alumni

Learning to care

ESO's mission is reflected in its motto which stresses the concept of studying and learning and also of caring for the patient in a global sense

Main activities:

- Masterclass
- Inside Track Conferences
- Advanced Courses, seminars and symposia
- Native language courses

Cancerworld

Cancerworld magazine is published six times per year and explores the complexity of cancer care from different viewpoints

Website

CANCERWORLD.org
The online world of oncology

The on-line world of oncology that brings together doctors, nurses and patients in the fight against cancer in both the developed and emerging worlds.

www.cancerworld.org

- European School of Oncology (ESO)
- Cancerworld Magazine
- Cancer Media Centre
- Survey of European Breast Cancer Services (SEBCS)
- European Cancer Patient Coalition (ECPC)
- Europa Donna - The European Breast Cancer Coalition
- Europa Uomo
- European Oncology Nursing Society (EONS)
- International Society of Geriatric Oncology (SIOP)
- The Challenge Fund

Unrestricted educational grants to cancerworld.org from Founding sponsors: Amgen, Roche sponsor: Merck

eso@eschooloncology.org' and the Cancerworld.org logo."/>

Visit the ESO website at:
www.cancerworld.org/eso

FREQUENT UPDATES AND INFORMATION ON EDUCATIONAL EVENTS.

Join CLUB ESO to receive

- Access to the educational material of past events
- Regular e-Newsletter
- Discounts on selected ESO events
- Complimentary issues of Cancerworld Magazine

European School of Oncology
Email: eso@eschooloncology.org

CANCERWORLD.org
The online world of oncology

ESO has launched a Cancer Media Service aimed to promote intelligent and critical coverage of cancer: journalists receive weekly summaries on key cancer research

ESO has expanded the traditional in-person programme by presenting a new initiative, the e-Grandround, free online educational events organised in collaboration with Nature Clinical Practice Oncology

The most important value which distinguishes ESO from other similar institutions, is that of independence, in particular from industries (pharmaceutical and non-pharmaceutical).

Finally, the School has always promoted oncology knowledge in a multidisciplinary and multiprofessional way.

Thank you!

